

eConveyancing timeline

2013

Banks, lawyers and conveyancers start to lodge some documents electronically

2014

First electronic settlement

2017

All refinances and standalone mortgages go digital

2016

Priority notices go digital

2018 (1 July)

Standalone transfers and caveats must be lodged electronically

2019 (1 July)

All mainstream property transactions to be lodged electronically

No more paper Certificates of Title

100%
Digital

The NSW Government has set a timeline for the transition to eConveyancing in NSW, and the Office of the Registrar General is supporting this transition.

eConveyancing is part of the government's commitment to leading digital innovation.

For more information visit,
www.registrargeneral.nsw.gov.au/eConveyancing